Jackrabbit Learning Experience

Lost the role, won the work — three months later, on their own initiative.

EDUCATION CONSULTING · USA · INTERVIEW OCT 2024 · PAID ENGAGEMENT FEB 2025

THE BRIEF

US learning-experience design firm (James Altman, President; Emily Lallier, PMP). Ran a rigorous workshop-style interview in Oct 2024 — multi-round, including a video intro, edited video, and a live working session with four of their team.

DELIVERABLES

- New Project Setup SOP
- Systems & Software Accounts tracker optimisation
- Subscription management workflow
- Assigned a Jackrabbit email (team-level trust, not vendor-level)

THE WORK

They chose another candidate. Three months later, they came back to me on their own initiative, set up an Upwork contract, and hired me, an unusually strong signal of trust.

TESTIMONIAL

"Sreya's thoughtful approach to problem-solving is particularly impressive. She thoroughly analyzes situations, considering various perspectives before developing comprehensive solutions. She asks insightful questions that reveal important considerations others might miss, ensuring deliverables precisely meet specific needs."

— James Altman, President & Chief Strategy Officer, Jackrabbit LX (Nov 2024)

Engagement closed April 2025 due to funding pressure in the US education/climate sector — not performance.

Indobotanik (Inbota)

Zero-to-one brand foundations — the hard first month.

CONSUMER · BOTANICALS · INDIA · JAN 2025

THE BRIEF

Approached for a first-month LinkedIn foundation: brand-name alignment, poster refinement, and a launch content calendar. A focused, foundational scope before committing to volume.

- Month-one content calendar
- Brand identity alignment (Inbota vs Indobotanik)
- Poster & creative review
- Handoff-ready pipeline for month two

THE WORK

Fundamentals before volume. Lock the brand name (Inbota vs Indobotanik), refine launch creative, deliver a curated first-month content calendar.

TESTIMONIAL

"Came in for the brand-name question and left with a full first-month content plan, creative review, and a pipeline that could be handed to anyone to execute in month two."

— Engagement summary · Indobotanik · Jan 2025

Snapshot of my zero-to-one work — proof I can do the hard first month.

Four principles, held quietly.

Strategy before creative

Positioning, ICP, and narrative first. Posts are the output, not the plan.

ii.

Founder-led, always

The most durable B2B brands are people. Corporate page runs alongside, not instead.

iii.

Retention over volume

One 24-month client beats twelve three-month flings. The work compounds.

iv.

Modular by design

À-la-carte scope, clear pricing, no lock-ins. Clients scale up because they want to.

Nine disciplines, one operator.

01

Strategy

Positioning, ICP, narrative — the plan before the posts.

02

Personal Brand

Founder and executive LinkedIn presence, voice and cadence.

03

Corporate

Company page strategy, editorial calendar, measurement.

04

Culture

LinkedIn Life pages, employer brand, behind-the-scenes stories.

05

Advocacy

Employee post guides, playbooks, and internal enablement.

06

Lead Generation

Outreach campaigns, Salesflow, credentialed handovers.

07

Content

Monthly calendars, signature campaigns, creative review.

08

Newsletters

LinkedIn newsletters, proposed, launched, and grown organically.

09

Ops

SOPs, trackers, subscription management, project setup.

WHY ME

Receipts, not claims.

3,000 → 9,000+

FOLLOWER GROWTH
